INDIANA LYNCHING

MILITIA WAS TOO LATE

Gov. Darbin Orders the Vincennes Guards Out to Protect the Threatened Prisoner.

Negro Arrested For Ravishing Two Women Identified By His Victims.

Sullivan, Ind., Nov. 21.—James Dilard, the Kentucky negro who was arrested at Lawrenceville, Ill., on Wednesday on the charge of criminal assault on Mrs. Mary Davis of this county and Mrs. John Lemon of Knox county the day before, was brought to Sullivan yesterday by the sheriff of this county, from whom he was taken last evening and strung up to a telephone pole.

When it became known throughout the two counties yesterday that the negro was in custody at Sullivan, intense excitement was created and it early became manifest that a lynching would follow. The sheriff, becoming alarmed at the rumors which were afloat, communicated with Governor Darbin, who ordered the Vincennes company of militia to proceed to Sullivan to suppress the mob spirit. Before this order could be carried out Dilard's lifeless body was swinging from a telephone pole between this city and Oaktown, near which latter place his dastardly assault upon Mrs. Davis had been committed. The mob proceeded in a determined manner to carry out its plans. About 7 o'clock last evening the leaders of the mob demanded the prisoner at the hands of the sheriff. The demand being refused, the jail was broken into and the negro taken out. He was then taken before the two unhappy victims of his bestial fury, both of whom clearly and unhesitatingly identified him as their assailant. The party then proceeded toward Oaktown, and about half way between that place and this city a convenient telephone pole was used as a gibbet.

Lynching in Arkansas.
Winne, Ark., Nov. 21.—Lige Wells, a negro, charged with assaulting Max Campbell, an Iron Mountain passenger conductor, with a knife and slightly wounding him, was taken from the officers last night by a mob of armed men and lynched. The officers had just boarded the train with their prisoner at this point to take him to Forrest City, when a dozen masked men entered the coach and forced the officers to give up the negro.

NEW ABLEGATE
Mgr. Falconi Has Taken Up His Duties in America.

Baltimore, Nov. 21.—Mgr. Falconi, the new apostolic delegate to the United States, arrived here last evening and was driven to St. Mary's seminary, where he spent the night. An informal reception and entertainment was tendered him at the seminary and addresses were delivered by members of the faculty and visiting prelates. The entertainment consisted of choruses and vocal and instrumental selections by the seminarians. Mgr. Falconi this morning celebrated his first pontifical mass in the chapel of St. Mary's. He was assisted by a number of Baltimore clergymen. The ablegate will go to Washington this evening after which invitations have been sent to a large number of the clergy.

After Moonshiners.
Greenville, S. C., Nov. 21.—A record-breaking raid has just been made by a party of revenue officers and state constables on the "Dark Corner" section of this county. The officers destroyed six large illicit distilleries, seventy-five fermenters, 8,000 gallons of beer and mash and sixty gallons of low wines. Three of the stills were found in operation, but the moonshiners escaped, being warned by sentinels of the approach of the raiding party.

Misguided Boy.
Metropolis, Ill., Nov. 21.—The city marshal yesterday arrested Luther Maynor for carrying a revolver. The boy showed a card from a bogus detective agency in Indianapolis, and asserted his right to carry a revolver. He was relieved of the revolver and the card was turned over to the postal authorities. He had paid $5 for the card, which he supposed made him a full-fledged detective.

THEY MEAN BUSINESS

Republican State Senators Talk of Some Needed Changes.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—A conference was held here today by a number of Republican senators, and it is understood they were seriously considering a number of changes in the rules governing the upper branch of the legislature. Two years ago there was much complaint because of the floor being crowded by outsiders. Friends and relatives had a bad habit of seating themselves at the desks of the members, while it was no uncommon thing for the aisles to be crowded with spectators. The result was there was so much confusion that the transaction of business was difficult. Permitting relatives and friends the use of the floor allowed the lobbyists full sway, and they took advantage of every opportunity. The galleries are furnished with comfortable seats, yet they were but little used. This time some of the members are insisting that the floors be kept clear. The number of committees is also liable to be reduced and new regulations regarding debate and the reading of bills may be made. The members are hoping they will be able to have a clean, businesslike session.

It remained for Indianapolis and Indiana theater goers to break the record for advance sale of seats for Ben Hur. The advance sale for the week's engagement beginning at the English opera house here, opened yesterday with several hundred people in line. This was expected owing to the great interest taken in the forthcoming production, but when the line held out all day the management began to wonder where all the people came from. It was stated finally by one of the men connected with the management of the attraction that it was the largest advance sale Ben Hur has enjoyed. The theater management was on the look-out for speculators, and no one was allowed to buy large blocks of seats. It is understood that the first day's sales reached nearly $8,000, and there has been a great sale today. Hundreds of orders are coming from outside cities and towns. The theater will seat 2,000, and as seventeen performances are to be given, 34,000 will have an opportunity of witnessing the performance. It is predicted that this great number of seats will be taken before the engagement ends.

It is regarded as somewhat unusual that there are not more candidates for places in the legislature. The only candidate for secretary of the senate is Harmon Hutson of this city, and the only candidate so far for assistant secretary is Fred Snyder of Angola. There is but one candidate for principal doorkeeper of the senate, and no avowed candidates for assistant doorkeepers. There are two candidates here for chief clerk of the house, but very few applicants for other places. This is surprising in view of the fact that most berths about the legislature pay not less than $5 a day. The explanation advanced is that most people have other employment that they do not care to give up for a 6-day job, even though the pay is good.

Two or three bills affecting the courts will be presented during the coming session of the legislature. Senator Crumbaker wants a law enacted to provide that three-fourths of a jury in a civil case will be sufficient to return a verdict. This bill was defeated last session, but many favored it. Senator Dausman has an amendment to the constitution prepared for the purpose of taking the courts out of politics. He would have the judges of the supreme, appellate and circuit courts appointed by the governor and the appointment confirmed by the senate. This of course will be fought to a finish, but it is also liable to have followers among men who believe that the courts should be absolutely divorced from politics.

Senator Ethan A. Dausman of Elkhart, who was here today, announced definitely that he is a candidate for Republican caucus chairman. This position carries an additional honor this time, as a United States senator is to be elected. Dausman was one of the bright young Republican members two years ago, and is regarded as being well equipped for the place. It is likely that Senator Walter A. Ball of Muncie will be his only opponent.

Farmers Are Aroused.
Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 21.—The farmers of western Clay and eastern Vigo counties held a mass meeting and set forth their views of the game laws to the effect that birds are good friends of the farmers; that they belong to the farmers, and appealed to hunters to stop killing them. The meeting declared that if the hunters persisted in going on land without written permits they would be prosecuted. The quail increase rapidly, and if they are not killed by men with guns, say the farmers, they will be so plentiful that they can be netted for the market. "Every Sunday seems like the Fourth of July or Christmas, there being a continuous roar of shotguns all day," the resolutions said.

Big Real Estate Deal.
Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 21.—David M. Dunning of Auburn, N. Y., yesterday deeded a tract of 2,000 acres in Kosciusko county to Strauss Bros., Ligonier, Ind., for $100,000. The tract lies in the heart of the onion section of Indiana.

Didn't Escape Death.
San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Albert Bardwell, one of the five Guatemala refugees who arrived here Wednesday, was run over and killed by an electric car yesterday.

PERILS OF MINES

Physicians Testify to the Ills Which Come Upon the Miners.

INTERESTING SESSION

Mining Commission Hears Some Important Evidence Bearing On Condition of Miners.

Life Shortened By Constant Subjection to the Underground Coal Dust.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 21.—The economic and sociological features of the anthracite coal industry and the effect that employment in and about the mines has upon the health of the mine workers, were the principal subjects brought before the arbitration commission yesterday by attorneys of each side to the controversy. While there was an entire absence of the brilliant cross-examination which marked the proceedings during the last few days, the cross-examination, nevertheless, had the attention of the commissioners.

The afternoon session was particularly interesting because it brought out much expert testimony on the question of the health of the mine workers. Three physicians who have practiced in Scranton or Wilkesbarre took the stand for the miners, and in substance testified that the occupation of a mine worker was very unhealthy and shortened his life. Dr. Frank P. Lenahan of Wilkesbarre, who says he has had a long experience among the mine workers, testified that fully 99 per cent of the men who work in the mine are anemic. Their health is impoverished and their condition is below par, thus decreasing their earning powers. The principal ills suffered by the miners, the physicians said, were the miners' asthma, rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica. The miners' asthma comes from coal-dust, powder-smoke and vitiated air. Dr. John O'Mally of Scranton said that at post-mortems he had seen miners' lungs as black as anthracite itself, and Dr. Lenahan testified that he had personal knowledge of a man coughing up coal-dust nine years after he had left the mines. He said he had information that a man had coughed up coal-dust fifteen years after he had left the mines. It was also stated that 90 per cent of the miners who reach the age of fifty years are afflicted with some form of rheumatism.

In attempting to show that carelessness of the miner contributes materially to the danger of his occupation, Chairman Gray interposed with the remark that a margin of carelessness incident to human nature must be taken into account when estimating the dangerousness of any hazardous occupation.

The interest in the commissioners and their investigation has not decreased. Each day hundreds of men line the streets and watch the arbitrators walk from the hotel to the courtroom. Most of them are idle mine workers, and they give the commissioners a somewhat critical look as they pass by. Each session of the commission finds the hearing room jammed with interested persons. The commissioners continue to hold daily conferences, but what is discussed is as a rule strictly withheld from the public.

Prophecy Fulfilled.

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—Yesterday at the United States custom house in this city, the first step toward the fulfillment of J. Adam Bede's prediction that "In twenty-five years Minnesota will have to depend on the Canadian Northwest for wheat to be ground in Minnesota mills," was taken. The Washburn-Crosby Milling company of Minneapolis bought their Humboldt mill for an indefinite period to grind nothing but Canadian wheat.

Alleged Wife Murder.
Cassopolis, Mich., Nov. 21.—David Weir was arrested here yesterday afternoon on the charge of having caused the death of his wife, who died very suddenly here Nov. 7. After Mrs. Weir's death arsenic was found in the stomach. Yesterday Mrs. Dora Poulson of Buchanan testified that she had been intimate with Weir and that he had promised to make her his wife. The coroner's jury recommended that Weir be held.

A Mysterious Shot.

Paris, Nov. 21.—Helen Gore, said to be an American, was killed by a revolver shot in the apartment occupied by Jean de Rydzenski, an actor of the Imperial theater. De Rydzenski at first said Miss Gore committed suicide, but subsequently he declared the revolver went off accidentally. The police have accepted the theory that the shooting was the result of an accident during a scuffle for possession of the weapon.

Startling Testimony.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—In the tax-fixing conspiracy trial, Luke Wheeler, himself a convicted tax-fixer, took the witness stand yesterday afternoon in Judge Horton's court and swore that James H. Gormley, president of the Masonic fraternity temple association, knew of every move in the tax-fixing scheme and sanctioned it.

CREATED SENSATION

Carrie Nation Gives New York Society the Shivers.

New York, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Carrie Nation created a sensation at the horse show yesterday. She harangued the great gathering on the evils of over-dress, attempted to break a bottle of champagne, and finally was ejected from the building by the police.

Mrs. Nation entered the garden quietly and took a seat in the tier. She had been there only a few minutes when her gaze rested on the box where some members of the Vanderbilt family were sitting. She studied her program and then descended to the promenade. Stationing herself in front of the Vanderbilt box, she delivered a tirade on over dress. In the box were seated Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Reginald Vanderbilt, and Miss Nichols. Alfred G. Vanderbilt was leaning against the rail of the promenade and did not see Mrs. Nation approach. "You ought to be ashamed of yourselves," the woman screamed at them. "You ought to be ashamed to wear such disgraceful clothes. Take them off, take them off at once and attire yourselves more modestly."

Alfred G. Vanderbilt hastily left his position at the rail and went over to where Mrs. Nation was standing and wiping her forehead with a handkerchief. He whispered something in her ear and pushed her away.

The outburst of the woman attracted a great crowd of people, and the occupants of the Vanderbilt box were evidently very much embarrassed. Mrs. Nation then turned her attention to other boxes. Finally she started for the cafe, where she bore down on a party of men who were drinking wine. Mrs. Nation seized a bottle, and, glaring at the men, shouted: "Young men, don't drink such filthy stuff. You are going straight to hell. Where is the man who sells this stuff? Show him to me and I will tell him what I think of him."

Mrs. Nation's request was speedily granted by the sudden appearance of M. Ville Pique, the caterer of the garden.

"Get out of this horrible business," she shouted at him. "You are also going to hell and ruining the bodies and souls of men. You are dragging them down with you. Shame on you, shame on you."

The Frenchman, however, ran to Mrs. Nation and rescued the bottle, which she had repeatedly brandished in the air to emphasize her remarks. Then he pushed her out of the door. Here the police took hold of the Kansas reformer and forced her out of the building.

Speculators Routed.
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 21.—An extraordinary scene was witnessed here last night when Yale students made an attack on the ticket speculators and relieved them of every ticket for the Yale-Harvard football game, in their possession. The speculators were given the regulation price, $2, for every ticket taken. In several instances when the ticket dealers remonstrated they were roughly handled. The exorbitant prices demanded by speculators for tickets had aroused the student body and they decided to take the matter into their own hands.

TO FORT LEAVENWORTH

Custom of Sending the Prisoners to the Ohio State Penitentiary Has Been Changed.

Forty-Three Indictments Returned Yesterday By the Federal Grand Jury.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—All male prisoners convicted in federal courts in this district will hereafter be imprisoned in the United States prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. The order directing this change from the Ohio penitentiary, which has been in practice for the last seven years, was issued by Judge Baker yesterday. The change was made on the motion of District Attorney Keating, who has been advised by the attorney general of the completion of the new federal penitentiary. The women prisoners will still be imprisoned in the Ohio prison at Columbus.

The federal grand jury returned 43 indictments yesterday and adjourned. The majority of the indictments are for convictions of the postal, revenue and counterfeiting laws. Monday will be general arraignment day.

He then ran into the country and hid in a barn, where officers found him.

Big Order for Pecans.

Princeton, Ind., Nov. 21.—Princeton has a new industry—a nut-cracking factory. A few weeks ago O. M. Kolb, formerly postmaster at Princeton, received an order from an Eastern firm for 25,000 pounds of pecans without the shells. He rented a building and employed thirty girls to do the work of shelling the pecans. He has a sheller to aid the work.

WEAK NERVES

Are generally caused by the blood becoming impure thereby depriving them of the proper strengthening nourishment. To cure weak nerves you must, therefore, first purify and cleanse the blood. Then you need Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It will perfect the digestion, make an abundance of healthy blood, strengthen the nerves and cure Dyspepsia, Constipation, Biliousness and Malaria. A CLOSE VOTE

Socialists Come Near Controlling Federation of Labor.

New Orleans, Nov. 21.—The Socialists came within 400 votes of securing the control of the convention of the American Federation of Labor yesterday. The struggle lasted almost the entire day, and a number of able speeches were made on both sides, notably those of D. A. Hayes, James Luncan and President Gompers against the Socialists, and Victor Berger, Max Hayes and W. B. Wilson of the United Mine Workers in behalf of the resolution introduced by Delegate Berger and amended by Delegate Wilson in a manner acceptable to Berger. The debate lasted until 6 o'clock in the evening, when a roll-call showed 4,744 votes against the amendment of Mr. Wilson, and 4,344 in favor of it. The miners voted solidly in favor of the amendment. No business was transacted in the convention other than that of the debate and the report of the committee which investigated the Gompers-Shaffer trouble. The report of the investigating committee, which was a complete vindication for President Gompers, was adopted unanimously.

From 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 5:40 o'clock the debate went on. President Gompers being the last speaker. He urged the union men to adhere closely to union principles, declaring that their success is greater than it would be if they followed any other decision than that under which they were organized. A motion made by Delegate C. H. Barter to lay the matter on the table was lost. A roll-call was demanded, the vote being on the adoption of the Wilson amendment to the Berger resolution. It was lost by a vote of 4,744 to 4,344.

Faithful Dog.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 21.—John Schenken of Fredericksburg was saved from death yesterday by the fidelity of his dog. Schenken was camping in a lonely spot nineteen miles west of Austin, and early in the morning he was attacked by a large pack of ravenous wolves. He was overpowered by the animals and severely bitten. Schenken's dog came to his rescue and diverted the attention of the wolves, while his master climbed into his wagon. The dog was killed and eaten by the wolves. Schenken will recover, though severely wounded.

Hard on Milliners.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Active efforts are to be continued by the Audubon societies of the United States to assist the state authorities in enforcing the law against the killing of plumage birds and their use by milliners. To this end a committee has been appointed to visit seven of the principal states in which birds are slaughtered and give practical assistance to the authorities in the identification of plumage birds and the prosecution of persons who may be found shooting them.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY MAKES WEAK STOMACHS STRONG

It is interesting to see how fast good news travels. Grocers say that when they sell Chase & Sanborn's Seal Brand Coffee into a household, it is only a few days before all the neighbors are using it. You can gauge the enthusiasm by the speed of the new orders. They try it, buy it, and cry it abroad. Every can sells two or three more. Really, it is worth while to try Seal Brand Coffee. The first taste is a new experience in coffee drinking.

UNIQUE SCHEME.

A Spaniard Claims Relationship with J. H. Andrews and Asks Aid

A few days ago J. H. Andrews, president of the First National Bank, received a letter from Spain that took him somewhat by surprise. Mr. Andrews never claimed to have any relatives in Spain and he is quite sure yet he has none there. But here is a man, signing his name as "Juan Campillo," who writes with every assurance that he married into the Andrews family. He begins his letter to Mr. Andrews by saying that he does not have the honor of knowing him only by "references which my dear wife, Mary Andrews, your relative, gave me." His pretended purpose in writing is to seek protection and a home for his only daughter, 15 years old, who, he says, is a niece of Mr. Andrews. Then he proceeds to tell his story.

He says that in the late Cuban war he was the secretary and treasurer of General Campos but when General Weyler took charge his position and opportunity were gone. He then joined the insurrectionists, but he says they were victims of treason, and he was forced to go to England taking with him his fortune of 3,600 pounds sterling. After being in London awhile he heard of the death of his wife, which necessitated his taking chances and going to the relief of his daughter in Spain, expecting to take her to the United States. He left his 3,600 pounds in the London Bank and went to Spain. But when he got there his identity was discovered, he was arrested, court-martialed and sentenced to eighteen years in military prison. He is now in very poor health, he says, and cannot live long. He is permitted to see no one but the chaplain of the prison. His daughter is not even permitted to see him. She is in despair and needs a "protector," and that is what he wants Mr. Andrews to be.

He says that his fortune of 3,600 pounds is to go to his daughter and her "protector." But this money is still in the London Bank and since he is in prison and his "equipment" is confiscated it will cost something to get it. And this expense money is what he wants Mr. Andrews to put up. Of course this is his scheme to get money. He closes this "confidential" letter very cautiously with this paragraph:

"As it is prohibited to me to receive any direct public correspondence I expect you to send your letter under two envelopes, the one inside to my name and the one outside to the name of the servant of my protector, the chaplain of this castle, who is or confidential man."

Of course the real purpose of the letter is to get money, for Campillo is an impostor with a deep laid scheme. He has doubtless written similar "confidential" letters to men all over the world and some of them may be foolish enough to risk some expense money, taking a chance on that "3,600 pounds sterling" and the fifteen-year-old girl.

PICTURESQUE BRITANNY.

A Market Scene in This Quaint French Province.

Brittany is a land where the peasants till the earth in zodiacal trowsers, torrid jackets covered with arabesque embroidery and green waistcoats around which run lines of crimson. The women wear short and skirts, great medallion collars and cuffs that flutter about their heads like the wings of doves. From beneath the points of their black caps the children gaze at you with wide eyes full of the curiosity of animals.

These people live in houses built of sculptured granite and sleep in open work closets carved like the monarchical of Egypt.

In spite of the "Breton Interiors" and "Returns of the Fishermen" which which painters swamp the market this race is still unknown or misunderstood, but in their homes, in their old time streets, on market days and when, in fair time, the tents are pitched in the village market places.

Few little horses draw to market fish, live vegetables and all the early produce of Roscoff. They are spread out upon the sidewalk. Chickens cackle; goats bleat; pigs, tied by the leg, strain toward the vegetables, sniffing at the fresh greens.

Farmers in sabots, carrying great blue umbrellas under their arms, with the two ribbons of their felt hats floating down their backs, pick their way among the Dinan china displayed on the ground—capacious soup tureens, cider jugs and plates covered with painted flowers and grotesque figures. The peasants converse with but few gestures; they bargain in guttural tones.

These taciturn people forget themselves in the barrooms on fair days. The taverns are full of noise. You may hear the sound of an accordion and the plaintive note of the binou (a sort of bagpipe), leading monotonous dances.

Into the harbor come boats laden with fish; other boats go out. The fishermen are full of business. Next week will occur the departure for the new country. There are women who weep.

FUNNY OLD METHODS.

Will Our Children Think Our Ways as Strange as We Think Our Forefathers.

Chance for Improvement Still in Many Others.

Perfection Has Been Reached in Many Others.

Suppose you were obliged to go to New York. Wouldn't it seem strange to you to get into an old-fashioned, mussy-smelling, jolting stage coach? It was not so many years ago that people had to travel that way.

Think of the inconvenience, think of the hardships, even, they were obliged to suffer; and think of the time consumed. We doubt whether these experiences tended to lengthen their lives.

It is just so with hundreds of other things. A great improvement is announced. We marvel at it for a few days, and then accept it as a matter of course. Now, if it is necessary to go to some distant city, we are made as comfortable, if not more so, than though we remained right in our homes, and a few hours brings us, without fatigue, to our destination. There is not a man living who would prefer the old way, after he has experienced the delights of modern methods.

But it is not in travel alone that improvement has been made. There are many other things much more vital to the ultimate good of man than easier methods of going from place to place, and nothing, probably, will illustrate this better than the much-talked-of Vinol, for in Vinol we see what has formerly been a necessity, attended with the most disagreeable features, transformed into what is really a luxury.

In Vinol we have the elements of what has been the greatest medicine known to man for the cure of wasting diseases of every description, namely, cod liver oil; but in Vinol we have none of the objectionable features that attended cod liver oil.

As Mr. Peter of the W. F. Peter Drug Co., of our city, who has connected himself with the Boston firm of chemists producing these goods, will tell you, and as many other druggists in town would endorse him, Vinol is the essence of all that is good in cod liver oil. Vinol is not a patent medicine; hence its popularity with physicians as well as the public. The manner of producing Vinol is a new discovery. It is the result of a special process by which the curative and medicinal elements are extracted from the liver of the live cod, leaving behind the fat and grease.

Just the right proportions needed of this extract is dissolved in a delicate table wine, and so to-day, in the line of medicine, all who have found it necessary to take cod liver oil, may do away, with all the disagreeable features of the old way, discarding the horrible grease which may be likened to the lumbering and unhealthful vehicle of travel of the past, and take instead, as Mr. Peter himself, in speaking of the matter, described it, "the elegant and modern vestibuled train" of medicine, finding in Vinol the elements so much needed to restore health, entirely disguised and much more rapid and efficient in the manner that they operate, than could have been expected in the old and cumbersome way in which this valuable remedy was formerly taken.

CONCERNING CALENDARS.

Some Interesting Ones Date as Far Back as the Fourth Century.

Among the Greeks and Romans almanacs or calendars were not written for the general public, but were preserved as part of the esoteric learning of the priests, whom the people had to consult not only for the dates of the festivals, but for the proper times when various legal proceedings might be instituted. About 300 B. C., however, one Enchiridion, secretary to Apollonius Claudius, stole these secrets by repeated applications to the priests and collated the information so gained. It was really publishing an almanac when, as Livy relates, Flavius exhibited the taste on white tables around the forum. From this time similar tablets containing the calendar, the festivals, astronomical phenomena and sometimes allusions to historical events became quite common. They have been dug up in Pompeii and elsewhere.

There are also extant Christian calendars dating as far back as the fourth century, which give the names of the saints and other religious information.

One of the most famous of the calendars of the middle ages is that compiled by Petrus of Dacia in A. D. 1300. A manuscript copy is preserved in the Savilian library at Oxford. The Symbolic Man or Man of Signs (Homo Signorum), still a common feature in almanacs, appears in this book, not, it is conjectured, for the first time, as it seems to have been a survival from the time of Ptolemy's "Almagest," a collection of classic observations and problems relating to geometry and astronomy.

The first printed almanac was the "Pro Pluribus Anis," issued at Vienna in 1457 by an astronomer named Purbach. The earliest known almanac devoted expressly to the year of issue was published by Rabalais in 1533.

Thenceforth the ephemeral yearly character of the publication came to be definitely recognized by almanac makers. Nostradamus set the fashion of incorporating predictions of coming events into almanacs, a fashion that has continued to this day in all purely astrological brochures of this sort despite intermittent efforts to suppress it by royal authority in France and elsewhere.—Era.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Chas. Wilderman, a switchman on the Southern Indiana railway, was caught between the bumpers in the yards at Bedford Wednesday night and badly hurt.

Madison is again holding railroad meetings, hoping to get the proposed extension of the C. R. & M. road through that city.

The general freight agents of all the western roads are meeting in Chicago with a view to restoring the rates which were in effect January 1, 1902. Instructions to restore all such as could possibly be restored were issued by the executive officials and it is said that they will be carried out to the letter.

After a search of forty hours the body of Ephraim Fish, the fireman who fell off a Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern freight train Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock was found. The body was found in Shoal creek, a stream near Breese, Ill., and was fifty yards below the railroad bridge when discovered. The indications are Fish had stepped to the passageway of the engine to get some fresh air and a lurch of the train threw him off into the creek. The body was taken to his home at Washington and will be taken to Somerset, Ky., for interment.

FLAGS ON THE CAPITOL.

What It Means When They Are Flying at Half Mast.

The flying of flags over the capitol at half mast is regulated by the strictest rules. Whenever these flags are seen floating half way down the mast it is a sure indication that a vice president, senator or representative is lying dead or that the action is taken in response to a presidential proclamation ordering the flags on public buildings at half mast in respect to the memory of some prominent official of the government who has passed away.

When the sergeant at arms of the senate or house of representatives learns of the death of a member of either of those bodies, he at once orders that the flags over the senate chamber or hall of representatives be half masted. This is often done before the houses of congress themselves are officially notified of the death. A good deal of discretion is exercised in the manner of placing the news of a death of this kind officially before the senate or the house. Upon such an announcement it is customary for the houses to adjourn in respect to the deceased senator or representative, and in order that the current business may not be stopped early in the day the announcement is generally made just before the houses are ready to conclude their day's work.

Officers of the senate and house when they fly the flags at half mast in response to a proclamation by the president regard their action as one of courtesy, as they do not recognize the power of the president to order congress to do anything except to assemble in extraordinary session. They have always responded to the requests of such proclamations. It would be a nice question, if one could imagine that it could ever be raised, to know to what extent the president's authority would allow him to order flags at half mast on the capitol. While his authority would not extend over the employees of the senate and house, yet the capitol itself for many years was in fact controlled exclusively by him so far as the care of the building is concerned, and the superintendent of the building is today appointed by him without confirmatory action on the part of the senate.

As a matter of fact, the capitol has for years been under the direct control of the committees on appropriations of the two houses of congress, but that control has been accorded them by the failure of the president to give any orders to the architect or more lately to the superintendent of the capitol. If he should order that official to fly flags over the capitol at half mast and the order should be disobeyed, he would have power to dismiss him and appoint some one else in his place without the concurrence of either branch of congress, except so far as the appropriation for the official's salary would be involved. These are practically moot questions, but they occasionally form interesting subjects for fireside talks when flags are half masted in response to presidential proclamations.—Washington Star.

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 21, 1902

FROM the present indications, Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois, will be chosen speaker of the lower house of congress to succeed congressman Henderson.

EVERY new man elected to the legislature is preparing a pocket full of bills. The old members have fewer bills to present. They have learned by experience.

THE annual meeting of the Jackson county teachers' association will be held in Seymour Friday and Saturday following Thanksgiving. Seymour people should exhibit some interest in this meeting.

THE Columbus police have started a crusade against gambling. One place was raided and eight would-be sports were arrested and caused to pay fines. Columbus has decided to clear house and rid herself of a class who have been living at the expense of others. A little light thrown in some of the carefully blinded rooms about Seymour might be a good thing for us. If all rammers are well founded some young men, being rather right here in Seymour are being given some expensive lessons in gambling.

Andrew Carsou, of Seymour, was the guest of C. C. Jordan and family this week.—Vernon Journal.

Go see "Her Marriage Vow" company tonight. You will miss a rare treat if you fail to attend.

A car load of scenery required to produce the great scenic play "Her Marriage Vow" which is all set and ready. Curtain raises promptly at 8:15 p. m.

There is talk again of building a railroad from Cincinnati to Louisville across the southern part of the state and to take in Madison.

The county commissioners will meet in joint session with the commissioners of Jennings and Bartholomew counties on November 26 to receive the work done on the joint bridge over big Sandcreek.

Thursday Thimble Club Entertain.

One of the most pleasant functions of the season was the entertainment of the B. D. club by the Thursday Thimble club yesterday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Alice Thomas. The home was beautifully decorated with the club colors, blue and white, and the club flower, the white chrysanthemum.

The reception committee Mrs. Ed. Hancock, Mrs. J. E. McKinney, Mrs. G. Cole, Mrs. Ed. McDonald and Mrs. Thomas were kept busy. Guessing contests were a feature of merriment. Music, by Mrs. Mercer, Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Pfaffenberger was also much enjoyed.

Dainty refreshments were served in the dining room which was a perfect bower of flowers, ferns, smilax, cream, cakes, candies, fruits etc. Mrs. Thomas acted as toast master and the following ladies responded to appropriate toasts, Mrs. Teckemeyer, Mrs. Chas. Frey, Mrs. Pfaffenberger, Mrs. D. Riley, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. John Conner and Mrs. J. M. Baxter.

The guests all declare the affair quite a success, and Mrs. Thomas a most excellent hostess.

A Startling Surprise.

Very few could believe in looking at A. T. Hoadley, a healthy, robust blacksmith of Tilden, Ind., that for ten years he suffered such tortures from rheumatism as few could endure and live. But a wonderful change followed his taking Electric Bitters. "Two bottles wholly cured me," he writes, "and I have not felt a twinge in over a year." They regulate the kidneys, purify the blood and cure rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, indigestion and give perfect health. Try them. Only 50c at W. F. Peter's drug store.

Startling, But True.

Hunting Evidence.

Deputy prosecutor, Earl J. Howes, of Peru, was here Thursday looking up evidence in the case of the State vs James Kingry, who is being prosecuted for bigamy. Mr. Howes visited both Seymour and Brownstown and it is probable that several witnesses will be summoned from both places.

Kingry lived here several months ago, occupying a house on St. Louis avenue. He left somewhat mysteriously, going to Columbus, then to Marion and Peru. His wife got trace of him and followed him up to find that he had married another woman. She reported him and he was arrested and put in jail at Peru where he now awaits trial. Wife No. 1 will appear at the trial as a prosecuting witness.

Fifty Cases.

Dr. F. S. Hunter, county health officer, received a message from Mitchell this forenoon, stating that there were now 47 known cases of smallpox in the town, and several others believed to be smallpox, making altogether about 50 cases.

The town authorities have already closed the schools, forbidden public meetings and the congregating of crowds on the streets; and other towns in this part of the st will no doubt quarantine against the place till the smallpox is stamped out.—Bedford Mail.

Sympathy for the Mules.

One of the most remarkable labor strikes on record is that of nearly 300 coal miners at Washington, Ind., who struck on Wednesday in the interest of the mules employed in the mines. They declared that the animals were not properly cared for, were often worked without having been fed or watered and that they themselves would not work unless the mules were better treated. It was a sympathy strike, and it did honor to the men.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

By the collision of two steamers at the mouth of the Tyne eight men were drowned. It is believed that the practical end of the cholera epidemic in the Philippines is near at hand.

The "Democratic party" is the latest addition to the political organizations in the Philippines. Prominent in its councils is Gen. Lukban late insurgent leader.

The reports published in this country about the loss of life and property caused by the eruption of the Santa Maria volcano, are said to be much exaggerated.

A block and half of property in Monongahela, Pa., was almost entirely destroyed and several persons had narrow escapes from cremation. The loss is $125,000.

Wanted.
 We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we all mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual constipation, nervous dyspepsia, headache, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try one bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. Ask your oldest druggist.

Vessel and Crew Go Down.

London, November 21.—The Danish steamer Knud II, Captain Hansen, from Copenhagen, and the British steamer Swaledale, from Hamburg, collided last night at the mouth of the Tyne. The Knud II. foundered immediately and the master and seven of her crew were drowned.

Hopetoun's Successor.

London, Nov. 21.—Lord Tennyson, the temporary governor general of Australia, has been formally appointed to that office. The appointment at his lordship's wishes, is for one year only. He succeeds Lord Hopetoun, whose resignation was officially announced May 14 last.

He Despised Tobacco.

The healthful or reverse action of tobacco has been an absorbing question for decades and one hard to settle. Emerson, cautious as he was, was once drawn into a discussion on the subject and, being a nonuser of the weed, was an ardent advocate of its abolition as a marketable commodity.

"Did you ever think about the logic of stimulants?" he asked. "Nature supplies her own. It is astonishing what she will do if you give her a chance. In how short a time the gentle excitation of a cup of tea is needed! Conversation is an excitement, and the series of intoxications it creates is healthful. But tobacco, tobacco—what rude crowbar is that with which to pry into the delicate tissues of the brain."

An Eloquent Answer.

A colored citizen gave a justice of the peace a big fat possum as a wedding fee.

Meeting the justice a year after his marriage, the former said:

"Well, Jim, how do you like married life?"

"Well, suh," was the reply, "all I kin say is I wish I'd eat dat possum!"—Atlanta Constitution.

These famous pills do not gripe, but move the bowels gently and easily, cleansing the liver. Their tonic effect gives strength to the glands, preventing a return of the disorder. Pellens' drug store and Peter's drug store.

Uneventful Journey.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The president's train arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning. The homeward journey was without special incident. The ride across the mountains over the Southern road was made in fast time. The train stopped only to change crews and engines. Its coming was generally unheralded, but there was a small crowd at almost every station. Several times the train was cheered as it swept by.

While There is Life, There is Hope
